HOLLYWOOD BEATS KIRKLAND AGAIN

Kirkland and Hollywood may Get Together on the 23rd in Seattle; Georgetown Here Sunday

Kirkland boys don't like to talk about it very much, but the fact will have to be admitted even though it does hurt, for Hollywood beat last Sunday 7 to 5.

Just what did it no one seems to know, for both teams played good ball, and the question seems open to argument, a good many observers say even now, that Kirkland can out-play Hollywood. Hollywood only got 9 hits off Reese, while Kirkland got 14 off Woodruff. But Hollywood got theirs bunched, while the hits by the Kirkland team were scattered so that they did little good. And it will have to be admitted that Kirkland's wonderful base-running and base-stealing was all that brought her score up to five with the hits being so scattered. Second base was stolen 3 times, 3rd twice, and Reese, with Howard's assistance, even stole home.

The game was exciting and greatly enjoyed by the crowd, but the fact that the whole field was soft from recent plowing, and the outfield was covered with grass 8 inches high, made the fielding slower and less accurate than it otherwise would have been.

The game decided nothing, so the players say, and while it has not been definitely arranged as yet, there is considerable prospect of the two teams meeting again soon. In fact, if the Dugdale Park can be secured for the 23rd of July, a game will be played there. If so, the two teams being on an even basis, it will be a contest worth going far to see.

Kirkland easily beat Redmond at Redmond on the Fourth, the score being 17 to 4, in spite of individual good playing by Redmondites. Turple pitched a good game, but had no support. Strange to say, Hollywood only beat Redmond 2 to 0 in a game played recently.

On next Sunday Kirkland will play the Georgetown aggregation at Kirkland, and a week from Sunday a game between the home team and the Young Men's Hebrew Association has been arranged. It will be played at Kirkland, and since the team beat Kirkland last year, a good game is looked forward to. The game next Sunday with Georgetown will likely be close, but little is known of the ability of the team.

MERLE STREET IMPROVED

The work of grading, ditching and otherwise improving Merle Street, which runs from the State Aid Road east to the town limits, is almost finished, and it only remains for Contractor H. A. McEvers to do a few more days work to make the street a credit to any town.

Before the grading was undertaken the road went up a considerable hill and over such a rough road and in such a winding way that it was difficult to haul very heavy loads over it but now a team can easily pull an ordinary load over it.

The improvement was started several weeks ago, and its early and satisfactory completion will be much appreciated by the residents of that part of town.

KIRKLAND THE BEST PLACE

Former Resident D. S. Mason is Going to "Come Back" to Kirkland; Says Buy Land Here

Those who have homes in Kirkland, stay with them, and those who want a home buy one there and do the same.

I have been in many countries, but the Sound country is the one for me. I never lived in a country before where it was so dry that water would crack. I have not seen a well day since I came here and I am coming back to Kirkland.

With best wishes, I am,

Very truly,

D. S. Mason,
Naches, Washington.

ELDRIDGE GOLDEN WEDDING

On Saturday, July 1st, a large number of relatives and friends gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Eldridge, in South Kirkland, the occasion being the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge. Most of these fifty years were spent on a farm in Wisconsin, where seven children were born to them, but several years ago the three living sons came to the Northwest to live, and four years ago the aged couple followed them, leaving behind a host of friends to mourn their departure.

That they have made a place for themselves in this community was witnessed by the company which filled their house bringing with them a number of elegant and suitable gifts. After the congratulations fitting so happy an occasion had been received, the company sat down to a bountiful collation.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Courtright, Mrs. S. Bunker, of Ballard, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bunker, of Brighton Beach, Mr. and Mrs. J. Holmes, of Ballard, Mr. and Mrs. Mann, of Seattle, Mrs. P. Garvin, of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. B. Green, Mrs. Tillman, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Newberry, Miss Lois Eldridge, Miss Alma Johnson, and a large number of children.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge are well and strong, notwithstanding their advanced age, and have a large number of friends in this locality.

NEW LAND FERTILE

Peas that rival the famous bean stalk that Jack climbed, can be seen on the Anton Langer place on the Redmond road, and were grown on ground that was recently cleared.

The vines stand over five feet high and are heavily loaded with pods. It is estimated that they would produce four to six tons of hay per acre if cut for feed, and about two tons of peas per acre. Besides these peas, Mr. Langer has a garden and hay field, all on newly cleared land, that would delight the heart of any farmer.

GOOD WATER GUARANTEED

Kirkland to Have a Fine Supply of Purest Water; Well is Down 350 Feet in Bed of Gravel

The well being dug by the Burke & Farrar Company at the top of the hill above Market Street is still going down, the drill now reaching a depth of 350 feet, but as yet no flow sufficient for a town has been struck although several seams have been encountered on the way down.

Prospects for a good well are good however, much better than last week and while there is no way of seeing into the ground, those in charge are much encouraged at the showing. The character of the ground has changed, becoming more gravelly as depth is attained, and this fact makes it certain that if water was struck, it would be the best obtainable anywhere. Mr. W. L. Wester, of the Burke & Farrar Co., in relating that the company was encouraged at the present showing, expressed their intention to keep on until one of the finest streams obtainable was struck. He said water was found in considerable quantities at about 320 feet, but not enough for municipal purposes, for their purpose was to get the finest supply obtainable.

FINE FARM SOLD

It is reported on good authority that the E. J. Ross farm at Woodville has been sold to Seattle. The new owners will make great changes thereon.

The Ross farm is one of the best in this section of country, and comprises 160 acres of bottom land, all of it suitable for any kind of a crop, and a large part of it already in cultivation. It lies about half way between Bothell and Woodinville, and being used as a dairy farm for a number of years. For a long time Mr. Ross operated a dairy of sixty cows on it, the farm being equipped with a silo and all other modern improvements, among them being a milking machine.

It is stated that the new owners are going to make still further improvements on the property.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETS AT HAPPY VALLEY

July 15th the Club Gathers in the Grange Hall in the Midst of the Fertile and Prosperous Happy Valley to the East of Kirkland

The East Side Commercial Club resolved at its recent meeting to hold its next regular meeting on July 15th at Happy Valley. You are hereby cordially invited to participate in this gathering of earnest, progressive and generous workers for the advancement of our district, known as East Side of Lake Washington.

You are vitally interested in the work this club has undertaken to do. In Union there is strength; therefore this organization is based on co-operation for the purpose of developing our resources, advertising our country, aiding in the construction of good roads and getting the best possible transportation facilities obtainable, and indeed to gather all forces to enhance commercial, social and material advancement for the district.

The time is ripe to gather together and counsel for the most effective action to meet the events facing our communities.

It is the ambition of this club to enroll in its enterprise every man and woman of voting age, and of these every one to be a booster and hustler. This being appreciated, it must appeal to every thinking mind what a power such an enthusiastic body of men and women may wield in the advancing of improvements and the placing of our beautiful land before the people.

The East Side Commercial Club will meet at Grange Hall, in Happy Valley, on Saturday, July 15th 8 p. m. It is open to the public; its deliberations will interest everybody. The Hall is roomy, it will be warm and well lighted, and a cordial reception is guaranteed to every one.

The attendance of ladies is especially invited. Their presence insures charm and dignity to the assembly, while their counsel and participation stimulate the activities of the movement.

Respectfully Yours,

The Committee

HOT WAVE SWEEPS THE EAST

Puget Sound Cool and Comfortable While the East Sweaters in Heat

The most terrific heat wave that has been experienced in years, has been sweeping over the portion of the United States lying east of the Rocky Mountains during the week, and hundreds of deaths and many thousands of prostrations have occurred all over that section. In the large eastern cities there have been many persons crazed by the heat and babes have died by the score.

Temperatures have run all the way from 98 to 113 the latter mark being reached in Kansas. As a whole it has been the worst run of hot weather in many years.

In Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Washington, D. C. and New York, prostrations and death were common while all through the middle west the heat was terrific.

More than 500 persons are believed to have perished from the heat, the figures from the press dispatches from the Atlantic coast to the Rocky Mountains showing that 431 are dead from heat, while 80 have been drowned in seeking to escape from its torments.

The heat wave has been of longer duration, and the temperatures have been higher, than for many years past, and the year 1911 will long be memorable in the annals of the middle west as the "hot year."

Deaths Total Many
It had died up to midday, and the heat prostration had been reported to the police. At Chicago 32 persons are dead, and over 100 prostrated by the heat. In Kansas City and St. Louis the temperatures were above 100, while at Junction City, Kansas, the mercury climbed to 113. These high temperatures, combined with the great humidity, rendered the heat unusually fatal.

During the time of these sweltering days in the east, Seattle and vicinity were enjoying the coolest of lake breezes, the highest point reached by the thermometer thus far in July being 77, on the 5th. These days are the regular summer weather on Puget Sound, the highest point in 1910 being 90, one day early in June.

GOOD PROGRESS ON SAMMAMISH DITCH

Right-of-Way Being Cleared & Work of Dredging Channel Will Begin Soon

The work of clearing and grubbing the right-of-way on the big Sammamish drainage ditch is going ahead rapidly under the direction of James Neil, of Juanita, to whom the contract for the work was let recently and from present indications the dredging can begin within a few weeks.

The channel to be dug is to begin at or near the Willowmoor Farms at Redmond, and will run to near the town of Woodinville, a distance of about three miles. It is to be perfectly straight, except where it is necessary on account of obstacles, to deviate from a straight line. The channel will be 10 to 20 feet deep, 10 feet wide at the bottom, with a slope of 1 to 1 on the sides. In all it will require the handling of about 300,000 cubic yards of dirt, and it will require probably six months to do the work.

After the preliminaries of this job are finished, it is thought likely that an assessment district will be formed of the land lying below the end of this present assessment district, and from there to the head of Lake Washington, and undertake the digging of another channel to connect with the one under construction. If this is done, and unless it is the land at the lower end of the Sammamish Valley will not be much benefitted, many hundreds of acres of fine land near Woodinville and Bothell will be drained. The lower ditch will require the moving of about 100,000 cubic yards of dirt, and will be about a mile long, the present channel of the river in some places being of a depth and character that it could be used to a considerable extent.

IMPROVEMENTS NEAR FERRY

The work of filling in the holes near the end of the ferry dock, which has been going on for the last three or four weeks, is almost done, and the appearance of the corner is greatly improved.

In addition to filling in their property adjoining the livery stable, the progressive firm of Stillier & Tompkins decided while they were at it to fill under the stable itself, and that work is practically finished. It makes another improvement to the corner that makes a great difference to a visitor. The George Bartsch fill is about finished and it makes quite a business street of the Redmond road.

Both of the property owners are to be congratulated on the work they have done, and we feel sure that the expense incurred will be more than made up by the increased valuation.

EAST SIDE TOWNS CELEBRATE

Big Time at Redmond and Woodinville; Juanita, Bellevue, Avondale and Kirkland Quiet

Save at Redmond, where the regulation old fashioned earsplitting celebration was held, the National Holiday passed off quietly in the East Side towns. Woodinville had a good celebration, with sports and contests the principal feature, but little gun powder was burned and no serious accidents marred the day. Bellevue, Houghton, Avondale and Juanita held quiet little celebrations with the social side dominant, and at Kirkland the day was made the occasion of a town gathering that afforded much pleasure to all who attended.

The contests at Kirkland provoked much merriment, particularly the ball game between the girls and the married men.

Following are the names of the winners in the principal events on the athletic field:

Girls Potato Race, Anita Reese
Boys over 15 Potato Race, Delance Price
Boys Potato Race, Under 15, Clement Price
Throwing B. Ball, Girls, Emily Babcock
Throwing B. Ball, Married Ladies, Mrs. C. H. Younger
Kicking football, Arthur Younger
Sack Race, Dwight Farmer
50 yd. Dash Young Ladies, Miss C. Ferry
50 yd. Dash, Boys, Calvin Rowe
50 yd. Dash, Young Men, Delance Price
50 yd. Dash, Real Men, H. W. Dresen

A special, by request race, was arranged between C. H. Younger and Capt. Oliver, it resulting in a bad fall for the Captain and some glory for Mr. Younger.

The baseball game between the girls and the married men proved to be a Waterloo for the Seniors, the score being 17 to 2.

Emily Babcock, who pitched for the girls, proved to be a veritable Ty Cobb, and her ability in throwing to Hattie May Chapman, at first, who caught everything that came her way, was surprising, both to the men, and the spectators. Barring by the girls was also surprising. E. A. Brooks was a wonder behind the bat, while the base-running of C. H. Younger may result in the White Sox getting him next season.

The following took part:
Cecile Ferry — C — E. A. Brooks
Emily Babcock — P — M. D. Price
Hattie Chapman 1st — Mr. Chapman
Edna Brooks — 2nd — Mr. Andrews
Jessie Wittenmyer 3rd — Mr. Terry
Glady's Willett — RF — Mr. Stillinger
Miss Parker — CF — Mr. Newberry
Florence Brooks — SS — Mr. Younger
Edna Babcock — LF — Mr. Jackson

In the evening a camp fire on the beach with singing and story-telling and a fine address by City Attorney, Stillinger, ended the day.

BELLEVUE

L. B. Sharpe, for many years a resident of Bellevue, called on friends here July 4th.

Gust Bjorkman, several years ago employed at the Ledges, has been visiting here this week.

A new house has just been completed on the lake front between Clyde and Bellevue.

Salem Fosnaugh, has returned from California, where he has been several weeks.

Special mention should be made of the decorations on the Charles Hamley and L. P. Smith homes on the Fourth.

Bellevue celebrated the Fourth in a quiet way, many people picnicking along the lake and others spending the day in Wildwood Park.

A letter received recently from Rev J. C. Baker tells of the good times he and Mrs. Baker are having at the O. C. Wilson home in South Bend.

The Neighborhood picnic, postponed on account of bad weather, will be held Wednesday, July 12th, at Atlanta Park, just south of Houghton.

The funeral of Mrs. P. H. Shoemaker, mother of Mrs. T. B. Shaw, was held at the home Wednesday afternoon, Rev A. B. Strong conducting the services. The interment took place at the Bellevue cemetery.

For some unknown reason no mention was made last week of the linen shower given Mrs. Gordon J. Clayton at the home of Mrs. A. B. Strong on last Wednesday afternoon. The affair was most pleasant, and Mrs. Clayton was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

JUANITA

I. S. Gay had a large crowd of Seattle people with him on the 4th.

A club is to be organized in connection with the Evergreen Band.

The Misses Moore, of Seattle, spent a part of the week with Mrs. Mollie Blakella.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Slavin left here on Monday for San Francisco, California.

Miss Inez Dunlap, a former resident here, visited with Mrs. Agnes Slavin on Saturday.

A large delegation of the North End Alliance, spent Wednesday at H. E. Turk's.

The Evergreen Band spent the evening of the Fourth with the Pleasant Hour Club. Ice-cream and cake were served.

"Hello, State Road Dairy, any milk today?" "Yes Sir, lots of it." "Do you cool your milk?" "Yes Sir, cooled with cold well water over the Star Cooler." "Do you keep cows udders clean?" "Yes Sir, we wash them every time we milk." "How many cows do you keep?" "13." "All Holsteins?" "No Sir, not one. All mixed stock of Jersey, Ayrshire, Shorthorn and Guernsey." "Any cream on the milk?" "Yes Sir, lots of it." "How do you sell the milk?" "14 quarts for $1.00. Delivered anywhere in Houghton or Kirkland at night or morning. Phone R 74." 6911

50 FEET IN 6 DAYS

One of the best well digging records that has come to our notice was made by Albert Nielsen and A. Kneeland, recently when putting in a well on the property of Mr. Kind, on Sheffield Street. The boys dug on it six and a half days, in that time putting it down a distance of 50 feet, when water was struck in abundance, and the digging stopped. The next to the last day, the well then being 34 feet deep, ten feet was excavated, from 34 to 44 feet. The dirt was hoisted in ordinary water pails, two being used, one dropping as the other was raised.

The diameter of the well is about 3 1/2 feet, and the soil through which it was sunk was clay and gravel.

CONVERTED HANNA.

Editor Cowles Taught Him a Lesson in Pocket Picking.

Edwin Cowles, long editor of the Cleveland Leader, numbered among his accomplishments that of pocket picking. Of course he picked pockets as an amateur only, but it is doubtful whether there ever was a professional who could play the light fingered game more skillfully than the able editor did occasionally for fun.

It was during the administration of a mayor who had been elected as a protégé of M. A. Hanna, who was then starting in Cleveland upon the political career which gave him national prominence, that the Leader began a crusade against vice. Articles were published daily in which it was asserted that the city was full of thieves, gamblers and other crooks, and the mayor was taken severely to task for not having them driven away. Hanna, being the power behind the municipal throne, came in for censure in an indirect way, and, meeting Cowles in the street one day, he expostulated with him concerning the Leader's style of warfare.

"Look here, Cowles," he said, "what's the use of all this racket? You're making a mountain out of a molehill. There are no more crooks in town than there have been right along, and it would be foolish to expect any mayor to drive all the law-breakers out, no matter how hard he tried or how good his intentions might be."

Cowles insisted that his paper was right, and he expressed the belief that there were then more pickpockets in Cleveland than had ever before infested that city.

"Pickpockets!" snorted Hanna. "I don't believe there's a pickpocket in the town. And, anyway, I have no sympathy for anybody whose pockets are picked. No one but a jay could ever be robbed in that way."

"You don't know," said Cowles, "how skillful some of these light fingered fellows become. It would be possible for one of them to go through your pockets while talking to you as I am now."

Hanna laughed derisively and said any pickpocket that ever got a hand in his clothes without being caught at it was well on his way to the gallows.

As they were talking, Hanna felt for his watch.

It was gone.

"That's strange," he said. "I guess I must have forgotten when I dressed this morning to put it in my pocket."

"Speaking of forgetting things," Cowles answered, "I forgot my wallet when I left home. Could you lend me $10?"

Hanna felt for his money, but found none. He put his hands into one empty pocket after another and was beginning to look sheepish when Cowles handed him back his watch, his money, his keys and a bundle of letters.

"Very well, Cowles," said the future senator; "I'll see what can be done about driving the pickpockets away."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A LAND OF LEISURE.

The People of Guatemala Like to Take Things Easy.

Just as Spain is the land of "manana," Guatemala has been called the land of "no hay." These words mean "there is none," and one hears them wherever one goes. If the people do not want to bother, declares N. O. Winter in "Guatemala and Her People of Today," that will be their invariable answer.

You might go up to a house where the yard was full of chickens, the woman engaged in making tortillas and fruit trees loaded with fruit in the yard and yet have a conversation about like the following:

"Have you any meat?"
"No hay" (pronounced eye).
"Have you any eggs?"
"No hay."
"Have you a house?"
"No hay."

In such a case the best way to do is to enter the house and hunt round for yourself and blandly order the woman to prepare whatever you chance to find. Then, if you leave a small sum of money with her on departing, she will not take any offense, but will politely thank you.

Time is the only thing with which they seem to be well supplied. It is equally hard to get anything done, for unless the party is willing to do the work requested he will find some plausible excuse. An American traveling across the country a few years ago found it necessary to have his horse shod at one of the small towns. There were three blacksmiths in the town. Of these one was sick, but had supplies, a second had no nails and the third no charcoal. As there was no lending among the craft the horse could not be shod.

Neglected.

CHAMPION SPRINTERS HERE

A discovery that may turn one of our councilmen into a professional athlete, was made on the Fourth when Capt. J. L. Oliver and Mayor C. R. H. Younger engaged in a foot race at the ball grounds.

Several friends of the Captain who had just seen him run in the married men's race, saw in him great possibilities as a speed marvel, and as a result a race was arranged between him and Mayor Younger, who had shown great class as a sprinter.

Unfortunately Captain Oliver struck the hole in which the pitcher stands when making outs for the Kirkland team, and he fell to the ground.

Mayor Younger perhaps has read of Pete Hennessy, who falls down in order to deceive his opponent, and he ran like a scared wolf across the line. Next day neither of the gentlemen could walk without pain, and they are still sore and stiff from their athletics.

Tales of a Tail.

I've taken with a grain of salt the wondrous things men do. The speed they've made, the tales they've spun. Have knocked me all askew. But for the swiftest things afloat That never seem to fail Without exception are the yarns About that comet's tail! —Boston Herald.

Real Solitude.

"Husband—You are quite comfortable, dear?"
"Wife—Yes, love."
"The cushions are easy and soft?"
"Yes, darling."
"You don't feel any jolts?"
"No, sweetest."
"And there is no draft on my lamb, is there?"
"No, my ownest own."
"Then change seats with me." —Ideas.

Too Late.

The novelist laid out his course, on atmosphere intent. Sought for the places reeking sin, the horrid, low and vile. They had to let him gently know each wicked place he went That other, seeking atmosphere, had beat him by a mile. —Philadelphia Ledger.

No Cause for Delay.

"I want for you, doctor, because you are a specialist in cases like mine," said the sick man. "Ah, I see," rejoined the noted M. D. "But before we go any further," continued the patient, "I feel it my duty to inform you that $25 is all that I am able to pay you for your services." "That being the case," said the great pill dispenser, "I'll have you on your feet by tomorrow." —Chicago News.

Not Reversible.

"A mile is as good as a mile." But I can assure you of this—The rule worketh not to her way. So long as we've taste for a kiss Nowhere lives a man who will say A mile is as good as a mile. —Woman's Home Companion.

What Traveler Saw Abroad.

"So you think the Bluffers are fakery about their extended European tour?"
"I should say so. They said there were so many Americans in Venice that many had to walk in the middle of the street."
"Well?"
"Why, the streets of Venice are canals." —Springfield Union.

FLAG RAISING AT JUANITA

One of the many pleasant gatherings of the past week took place at Pleasant Dale Poultry Ranch, the home of Mr. R. H. Bartling, at Juanita, when large flag-pole, 70 feet in height, was raised.

On the top of the pole was a White Leghorn rooster, one of the breeds that Mr. Bartling will handle. The ceremony took place in the afternoon, July 2nd, and afterwards some time was spent in social intercourse. The following were present: Messrs. Ed Haseman, Claude Smith, Hall Smith, and Charles Smith, Oscar Gray, Loui Syverson and Mr. Borgeson, of Juanita, and Messrs. Galbreason, J. B. Hansen, and O. Shea, of Seattle. Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Gabrielson and Mrs. Borgeson and daughter Effie, of Seattle, were also present.

Nothing Left.

"Where were his remains buried?" "Oh, he met a hungry bear."—Lippincott's.

Better Still.

"Don't you think you have a good mamma to spread such a nice, big slice of bread with jam for you?" asked the visitor.

"Oh, yes," replied little Lola, "but my grandma is gooder. She lets me spread the jam myself."—Exchange.

Norway has a society called the Norske Myrselskab, which advises the people in all matters pertaining to the proper management of forests, draining and bringing waste lands under cultivation and encouraging the peat industry.

Silver.

The handle of a silver spoon gets hot more quickly than that of a pewter spoon when thrust into a cup of hot coffee. In fact, this is an easy and quick way of detecting imitation silver. Silver itself has been found to be the best conductor of heat known.

Barbados.

Agriculture is the chief pursuit in Barbados, and without doubt the island is the most intensely cultivated spot in the West Indies. Sugar is the chief crop and has been from time immemorial; tobacco is grown slightly, fruit hardly at all.

The Baby Camel.

The baby camel is a curious looking little creature, but one which you would hardly select as a household pet. Like all young beasts, it is playful, but in a modified, solemn sort of way, and is as clumsy as it is odd to look upon.

AVONDALE

The Fourth passed off quietly in Avondale, most of the people going to Redmond to celebrate.

Miss Helma Weiss is home from Friday Harbor, where she has been teaching school.

Ask Henry Brown how much Swedish and Norwegian he learned at the basket social on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Westfall, of Seattle, spent a few days this week with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Weiss.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Lahale and children went to Portland on Sunday for fortnights visit with Mr. Lahale's parents.

Miss Everson, of Salem, Utah, is spending a week at the home of her Uncle, Mr. G. Everson. Miss Everson is on her way to the Hawaiian Islands, where she will be engaged in Missionary work.

The basket social given by the Good Templars last Saturday was fairly well attended, about $20 being realized. Mr. John A. Bloom, head of the Scandinavian Good Templars in Washington, made an address in Swedish, and Attorney Carl Benson, of Seattle, an address in English, both speaking of the Good Templars work. Afterwards declamations and games were enjoyed until a late hour.

Facing Powder.

Miss Buchanan was rallying her cousin, an officer, on his courage and rashly said:

"Now, Mr. Harry, do you really mean to tell me you can walk up to the cannon's mouth without fear?"

"Yes," was the prompt reply, "or a Buchanan's either."

And he at once did it!—London Tit-Bits.

A Joke That Failed.

Hoyster had reached home at 2:30 a. m. and found his wife very much awake.

"Now, dear," said the belated man rather thickly, "don't fly up in the air."

"And why, pray?" very deliberately inquired the lady, breathing hard.

"Because you might infringe the (hic) Wright brothers' patent, my dear," chuckled Hoyster just before she awoke.

Bards in Competition

The following poem was submitted by the writer with the statement that she was "running in opposition" to her Aunt, Maud Bechtel, whose poem giving the history of the ferry agitation at Bellevue, created such favorable comment on the whole East Side.

Factoria's Triumphs and Tribulations

Have you heard about Factoria, The Pittsburg of the West, Where Appleton and his followers Have done their very best;

To make a thriving city, These noble men have tried, To build it slow and surely, So the people'd be satisfied.

First there came the grocery, So the people all could take, Their time upon their ranches, ' Stead of goin' across the lake.

To buy the things they needed, To keep them on their legs, Besides the garden stuff they raised And a few fresh ranch eggs.

Then came that 'normous factory, With lots of window light, And to dedicate that noble place, They had a dance one night.

The Appletons, they built a switch, About a half mile long, Then the machinery for the factory Came forty thousand strong.

They've got a swell water plant, The water's cold as ice, The people of Factoria, Think that's mighty nice.

They got a Sunday school at last, To keep the people straight, But the base-ball fellers got there too, And we opened the lower gate.

So every Sunday, if you're there, A stickin' 'round the place, You'll see the Factoria base-ball nine, Play with accuracy and grace.

Jake Orcutt is the Umpire, R. T's a Captain too, And Victor Lee, he is so tall, He's always plain to view.

There's Shorty Wells, a fielder, He cannot catch a thing, And every time he misses one, The woods with echoes ring.

There's Rus, and Ed, and Charlie, All baseball players, too, But the boy that never gets to first Is a feller they call Lew.

There's Roy, and Frank, and Willie, And a feller they call Slim, There's Nelson, Cliff, and Trumpky, And our athletic Jim.

They planned to build a school-house, Upon a lovely site, So they held a bond election, And the people voted "right,"

To raise five thousand dollars, Was the end they had in view, But a few smart county officers, Said, That will never do.

McCauly was the architect, He drew for them some plans, But the county superintendent, Stept in with both his hands.

He said those plans are much too small, For such a growing place, I'll recommend a set of plans, For that hill side to grace.

The Factoria folks got huffy, And said, We'll see to that, We'll have McCauly's plans or else We'll let the thing fall flat.

So now they're on the trail, Of some influential men, And if they ever catch them, There'll be something doing then.

You've now heard about Factoria, The Pittsburg of the West, An industrial city of Seattle, We all know it is the best.

—Emma Whaley.

Eighteen Eggs.

"I don't think I'll make a cake by the recipe that woman across the hall gave me. It will be too expensive. The eggs alone will cost entirely too much," said the bride to her husband.

"Gee whiz," said he sympathetically, "that's too bad. How many eggs does it call for anyhow?"

"Eighteen," said she, "the yolks of eight and the whites of ten."—New York Sun.
