Annual Active Club Smoker Scheduled For Friday Apr. 4

Ten big bunts and a free-for-all are in store for the annual smoker to be sponsored by the Kirkland Active Club Friday, April 4, in the Junior High gym at 8 p.m.

Matchmaker Herb Godfrey announces that careful consideration has been taken to match boys of equal size and talent.

In the feature bout of the evening, battling Bob Bolstad will tangle with giant Charlie Redden.

In the preliminary fights Ben Barta will meet Bill Pumphrey. Though Pumphrey will spot Barta a few pounds, his excellent training program and powerful arm should even up the match. Mike Ogilvie will take on Pete Grande.

Mr. Godfrey commented later, "Bob Burton will climb into the ring with Bill Owen and rumor has it they'll box.

Other bunts have Bob Hayward vs. Tvor McVoy and Ken Sturm vs. Joe Merrill.

A special 'event will be the free-for-all when ten big husky men and Mike Puten will climb into the ring with bulky clubs and battle it out.

At the time of the writing the tenth bout was not set, but after World adviser Mrs. Baggaley sees this sport page, chances are the final bout will match Sports Editor Bill Kruller and Mrs. Baggaley.

"The team from the Rainier plays sponsored by the American Legion, and the Dodgers from Kirkland's little league both have fine teams."

Golfers Record Terrific Round

(PU—Feb. 30 Seattle, Wash.) In quest of learning how Coach Bill (the mad trumpet-er) Cole's Golf team was coming along, your reporter followed several of the divot-sers on a practice round over one of Seattle's better golf courses.

On the first hole Dave's drive was 30 yards past the green. Miller was in a sand trap to the left of the green, and Lottsfeldt was only 20 feet from the cup on his drive.

Again on the second hole all three of the players drove either past or on the green. On not one hole of the first nine had any of the contestants been more than 10 yards short of the green.

As we retired to the club-house and I hastily scribbled notes on this fabulous exhibition of divot-digging I happened to notice a sign which read "Green Lake Pitch 'N Putt".

Football Players To Be Conditioned

Pong pong is now a major sport. Action by the student council, Wednesday, May 26, proclaimed ping pong a major activity at Lake Washington.

Richard E. Lander, English teacher, is the coach of this new activity," announces principal Dan Shovlin.

The move by the student council was pushed with a petition signed by football players who wanted a spring training program for conditioning purposes.

"Some of the boys have already been training for the season's play," reports Coach Lander. "For instance, Larry Ayers, agile net man, has been batting popcorn kernels around at the theater."

Bob Strout and Ken Storm look like good prospects, both have had experience wielding the paddle as sergeant-at-arms in Boys' club. Ben Barta, a sophomore prospect, was forced to stay home and rest recently due to the strenuous fore-wrist exercises he did recently at a turn-out, according to Walter Shovlin, attendance office.

Mr. Lander says he believes rhythm plays an essential part in this game. He recently won from Keats while the team practiced.

Pegg Promotes Noon Shows

Due to the discontent expressed by students concerning short and boring lunch periods, it has been decided by Richard Pegg, sophomore class president, that future shows should be given regularly during the noon hour.

“By working out such a program the students would not longer have to struggle to amuse themselves and more time could be given to the lunch periods,” states Richard.

But students and teachers alike would be asked to participate in the shows.

“It is well known that many of our students are interested in dancing. Perhaps some hidden talents could be revealed,” states Mike Ogilvie, staunch supporter of the proposition.

A few students have already offered their entertaining abilities. Slinky Hammond, an authority on hula dancing, has said, “I would be glad to give a demonstration of my technique.”

“Mr. Tremaine McGinty would no doubt be called upon for a recitation on the art of eating,” commented Richard.

Lander Crosses Trees, Orchid;

Amazing Results

Dr. Richard E. Lander, one of the world's most famous orchid growers, has just contributed the rarest plant to science. By crossing labellum orchid with an orange, a lemon, and a cherry and adding the fact that the plant is larger than a regular orchid, yet not nearly as big as an orange tree. It must be given ten square feet of soil to grow in as the roots extend to great lengths.

This strange plant was produced when Dr. Lander fulfilled his craving for gum drops that grow on beautiful plants.

The phenomenon will be on display in the annual flower show in New York, March 23-25, 1956.

Carolyn McCurry, Lake Washington Senior high school student body secretary, was given a ticket for speeding on her cow, Daisy, Friday at 8:45 p.m. At the time she was traveling south on Virginia Street.

Carolyn says that she was in a hurry to reach school that morning because she had missed her bus. “I just didn't watch how fast I was going, I guess I should have realized it when I passed that 1952 Cadillac,” says Carolyn.

“Mr. Tremaine McGinty would no doubt be called upon for a recitation on the art of eating,” commented Richard.

April Fools Celebrate Birthdays Today

Believe It Or Not—Just 15 years ago today Dixie Wegner was born in Providence Hospital, Seattle. There were a few things missing, such as fingernails, eyebrows and a chin. Time, however, fixed that and at the age of 2 she took top honors in a nation-wide baby contest.

Another April fool's oddity, Lar"laine Carlson, was born in an elevator at the South Shore hospital, Chicago, Ill. Lar"laine seems to have had many ups and downs since then, and traveled to Sweden in 1947.

The last of these April fools, Jerry Fitzgerald, made his debut in Redmond, Washington. 1935. The only thing odd about Jerry is the fact that after living in Redmond for twelve years and moving to Grants Pass, Ore., he returned to his home in this suburb of Kirkland.
