Junior-Sr. Bands
To Play Tomorrow

Tomorrow night at 8 p.m. the junior and senior bands will present their third annual winter band concert in the junior high school auditorium.

The bands under the direction of William Cole, LW band instructor, will be comprised of all bands in the junior high school. The senior band will be directed by Art Mitchell, and the junior band by Bill Sohns.

Gary Stubbenrauch will be the orchestra conductor with the junior band. He will play an alto saxophone solo in the number, "Battle Jazz." The Band Boosters club is sponsoring this concert and the proceeds will go in a fund for senior band uniforms.

Mr. Cole announced the following program for the senior band:

LETTER TO THE EDITOR...

To the Editor...

There has been a lot of controversy about the necessity and the cost of corsages for our high school formal dances.

The boys feel that they can't pay less than $2.50 or the corsage will look cheap. They honestly believe girls compare notes and find out who is paying only the most expensive corsages.

On the other hand, from personal experience, I know the girls contend that it's the thought behind the flowers and never the price.

I think the easiest and best solution to this matter would be to invite all the florists in Kirkland and Redmond to attend an assessment to see if there are ways they can lower the cost.

We believe that competition is strong and each florist would try to make the most original yet low-priced corsages.

In this respect we can get a better turnout at our dances as this cut could be cut from $1.50 to as low as $0.50.

With a small box camera, a boy of 16 developed a hobby into a profession. Glen Clarence, former Lake Washington student, is one of the Eastside's outstanding photographers.

He is called upon to take pictures in almost every field. Besides portraiture work, he takes pictures of cars, trees, damage to the city, and all of which are used in major law suits.

Mr. Clarence explains that the camera sees much more than the eye does. He picks out the details and gives the true picture of what happened.

"Photography has come a long way in the past few years," comments Mr. Clarence. "Ten years ago pictures were taken by daylight and printing was also done by daylight. They used film, they used glass plates and emulsion on the glass plates with emulsions. Conventional use was instead of soft lights. Only time has changed that. They now use a reduced print and each time a picture was taken, the bulb would be replaced and the film was filled with smoke."

He has a picture of the Tot Line, a local manufacturing company, printed in the National Advertising Company's magazine. Mr. Clarence attended the Nor-

Beth Gildow, senior, has broken into the modeling field. She received her first check as a portraiture model at the Seattle School of Modeling. Congratulations Beth.

Although it isn't spring, a few of the local yokels decided to have a picnic. Each boy was given a complete picnic style, and ate it in the cafeteria. The room was filled with schools in the area soon.

Shirley Johnson: I think that we will have a chance to win more games and our school spirit will improve.

Counsel: Smith: In 33 words I couldn't get started. Having been in both leagues, I know the underclassmen are going to enjoy their new athletic set-up. Take my word for it.

As the 1952-53 basketball season bows down to the incoming spring sports, the Lake Washington Girls Drill Team also takes its final bow.

"We had a swell group this year, they all worked hard and deserve a lot of credit," says Carole Rydeen, student adviser. "We're hoping that next year our Varsity cheer leading will be underclassmen are going to enjoy their new athletic set-up. Take my word for it.

U. of W. SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS MUST BE COMPLETED BY MARCH 20

Completed application blanks for the University of Washington's freshman scholarships must be returned to the scholarship committee not later than March 20, 1955. The forms are available in the office, according to Walter Seabloom, senior class advisor. Each application received is considered for all available scholarships. Awards are given for high academic promise, financial need, and excellence of character.

There are also several local scholarships which are available. To an outstanding senior chosen by the faculty $125 is awarded. Two PTA scholarships amounting to $100 each are presented to prospective teachers. The Women's club and Rotary club both award $125 to seniors who are planning for college.

"This year the Washington Alumnae chapter of Pi Lambda Theta is offering a new scholarship to the University of Washington," announces Mrs. Gladys Hagley, advisor. "It will include tuition paid for the fall and winter quarters and be presented to a senior girl graduating from a high school in Washington who is planning to teach.

"Deadlines for all scholarships are drawing near and interested students should have their applications in soon," advises Mr. Seabloom.

Job Opportunities Many In Advertising Field

Advertising is an up and coming vocation which covers a wide range of varied fields. The many jobs connected with this gigantic business are interesting and well-paying, according to a study made at the University of Washington.

Copy writing involves the creating of headlines which will be sure to attract the public eye. The copywriters devise all advertisements from newspapers to radio and television commercials.

Artists find their work in the layout or the planning and drawing of the advertising picture. The layout can also be tackled by people who do not have artistic talents, but a good facility for visualizing.

Production work entails the printing and final producing of the advertisement, and is, of course, indispensable to the industry.

A relatively new phase of the business is market research. Advertising executives, to meet the strong competition around them, must know what other similar products are on the market and also what the public is looking for in such merchandise.

Public relations and publicity campaigns call on the advertisers and have theircreated in the other branch of the business. Also, selling advertising space is very necessary to the business. Through this department newspaper space is sold, and radio and television time.

The University of Washington School of Communication is offering interested students an education program which will aid them in the advertising business. Opportunities for well trained newcomers in the advertising field are numerous.

Seattle U. Is Ideal For Working Student

Against the mound this summer the Queen of the Eastside, Seattle University, located in the State of Washington, will present the second annual "Summer Sessions in the City of Seattle." It is especially popular with students who have part-time employment, because most classes end early, and it is near industrial and business centers.

There are also night classes for persons who cannot attend full-time schedules during the day.

There are five colleges included in the university. The College of Arts and Sciences enrolls 615 individual units, each with its own department head.

The School of Commerce and Finance is designed to offer the student a professional training in preparation for a career in business or government.

Engineering Courses Taught The School of Engineering teaches civil, chemical, electrical, industrial, and mechanical engineering.

The School of Nursing provides courses for the high school graduate who wishes to take a professional program of nursing and for registered graduate nurses who wish to prepare themselves for teaching and supervision.

The School of Education offers a professional training in the field of education, leading to a General Teaching Certificate in the State of Washington.

It has been said that the music of Glenn Miller will never die. The students of Lake Washington realize this when they listen to Glenn Miller serenade in the school band.

... Strictly Seniors ...

Having left the proverbial age "Sweet Sixteen" only yesterday, Miss Ford, a tall, slender blonde, is now a pretty young lady.

Joanne Forbes will not confirm if she is going to change them. When she dies, they inquire: "How is the mother?" When the Smith family gets a roll for their camera.

Popped Corn...

The pupils of a school were given a holiday because of the teacher's institute. One 12-year-old youngster startled his parents by announcing: "No school tomorrow. The teachers are going on an innocent fast."

It's a woman's world. When a man is born, people ask: "What is the mother?" When he marries, they exclaim: "What a lovely bride!" And when he dies, they inquire: "How much did he leave her?"

There was a deaf-mute who fell in a well and broke three fingers screaming for help."

First little boy: I'm five. How old are you? Second little boy: I'm five, I guess.

First little boy: Are you going steady? Second little boy: No.

First little boy: Then you're only four.

She's lovely. She's engaged. She uses Ponds. She can't afford a bathtub.

"Lois Lindberg: I don't have the sense of humor."

"Margaret Wubbena: Well, I think it's a split manifold."

"Dolly Enslow: It produces a roaring noise."

"Janet Edgar: A split manifold is a tear in the exhaust pipe isn't it. Yeah, I guess."

"Liz: A lazy man's way of making his car noisy."

"Juno Morrison: Something that Don used to have on his car."

"Lois Lindberg: I don't have the slightest idea."

"Erin Long: Well, it's a kind of split exhaust pipe and it pops."

"Mary Brooks: Something the boys put on their car to make it noisy."

"Margaret Wubbena: A lazy man's way of making his car noisy."

"Dolly Enslow: Well, I think it's the exhaust pipe isn't it. Yeah, I think that's what it is."

"Janet Edgar: Well, ah, it's got something to do with hot rods."

Students Enter Contest

Nineteen Lake Washington students are competing for writing awards in the annual Scholastic contest for high school students. In the poetry division Barbara Baggaley, Mrs. Marienne Cadle, Richard Lander, and Mrs. Gladys Warneck have entered their original verses.

Journalism entries include features, news stories, editorials, interviews, and sports stories by Joanne Forbes, Susan Dumpsey, Thelma Lundberg, Carol Groschell, Peter Grandje, Elsie Gibbs, and Grace Wanner.

Short stories have been submitted by Darlene Brown, Eileen Henzen, and Vic Hartfield. Essays by Pat Gain, Carol Bush, Elsie Gibbs, Thelma Lundberg, Shirley Fredrick, Joanne Carpenter, Sharlene Jacobson, and Flossie Hennen, and Bev Hartsfield. Submitted by Darlene Brown, Eileen Elsie Gibbs, Thelma Lundberg, says by Pat Gain, Carol Bush, and Grace Warneck.

Another topic at the meeting will be to encourage girls of Lake Washington to wear regulation dress. "Results of regulation day prove that this practice is being overlooked by many girls who wore regulation at the beginning of the year." comments Carole Rydeen, president of Girls' Club.

"Candy sales are another problem. Until just lastly the candy sales have been successful. The profits prove that. There are still many prospective buyers that are now turned away because of lack of candy. So come on girls bring more candy and make that next sale the best ever," encourages Warneck.

Shovian Introduces New Registration Cards With Code

A new type of registration card has been introduced into the administration of Lake Washington by Dan Shovian, principal. This new form will aid in sorting cards to make scheduling better and easier.

With this new device, known as the Unsort Analysis Card, many conflicting classes will be eliminated.

Shovian introduces the card saying it should be used to help students determine which courses are offered and to plan their schedules accordingly.

Regent Store's Motto -- 'We Pledge To Serve You'

Senior Girls Guests of Kirkland B.P.W.

A special date is coming up for all senior girls. It is an annual senior girls' reception, given by the Kirkland Business and Professional Women, to be held April 22 at 8 o'clock in the Rose Room of the Civic Center.

The organization is so interested in having every senior girl attend, that they are assisting in arrangements for transportation for the girls.

Because of her extreme popularity last year at the reception, Mrs. Frankie Schmitz, director of personnel training at the Bon Marche, will again be guest speaker.

Students To Receive Accident Insurance

Last year all students at Lake Washington were given notices, to be signed and returned by parents, regarding insurance for accidents incurred at school and while traveling to and from school.

The Parent and Teachers' Association Council, sponsor of the project, has studied the problem and has received the approval of the school board.

This insurance will pay the expense of treatment by a qualified physician, surgeon, or dentist up to a maximum of $500.

"We pledge to serve you" is our motto," commented Mrs. Orville Gerdies, owner of the Regent Department store in Redmond in an interview, "and we try our best to live up to it. The most interesting part of the business is our association with the teenagers."

Mrs. Gerdies' interest and enthusiasm in high school students is shown by her active work on the Distributive Education advisory board. Every week D.E. students borrow props and clothes from the Regent to use in learning how to arrange window displays.

Again her interest was seen when the Girls' club charm committee presented a style show for the last meeting. Among the clothes styled by the Regent were a pair of pink TV pajamas and a white, quilted-satin, lounging robe, also dresses and sport clothes.

Before opening her own business in Redmond five years ago, Mrs. Gardies spent several years as a buyer of ready-to-wear apparel for J. C. Penney's and Fredrick and Nelson's in Bellevue.

Besides being a business woman, Mrs. Gerdies is the mother of three boys, one in the Air Force, one in high school, and another only two years old.

Exceptional Child
Gives Opportunity

Providing an education for exceptional children in Lake Washington's newest addition to its curriculum.

Organized last fall, the School for Exceptional Children at Steward Heights has an enrollment of approximately 25 children ranging in age from 8 to 14 years. Eligibility for entering the school is not restricted as long as the child is exceptional in any way. It draws students from all territories east of Lake Washington.

Three full-time teachers are employed to provide a rounded education for these children that have physical and mental difficulties. Students of high school age spend half a day on academic learning and the other half on vocational training.

"The students of this school are affiliated with the 4-H clubs and have on display in the windows of the Kirkland Mercantile and Lakeside Hardware, recent handicraft projects they have completed," comments Mrs. Rosemary Hunt, director of the school.

Junior Red Cross Drive Begins;
Charlene Putison Is Chairman

"Today the Junior Red Cross drive begins," announces Charlene Putison, Girls' Club chairman of the drive, "it will end Friday, March 14.

Junior Red Cross is the division of the Red Cross which solicits aid from students through school campaigns. Thousands of boys and girls throughout America and foreign countries receive educational, health and recreational supplies from contributions made by students.

Previous records show that last year Lake Washington high school students contributed fifty dollars to the Junior Red Cross.

This year we'd like to send even more to them," comments Charlene.

"We saw 'Arsenic and Old Lace' about four times now, but memories of it still linger on. The actors were so well cast and portrayed that I had to stop and think before I could remember who the actors really were," states Miss Nellie Gunning.

The actors are feeling after effects too. "It makes me sad when our seniors did the act," states Miss Betty Harris, school dietician. "Never was it so enjoyable to me as when our seniors did the acting," states Miss Nellie Gunning.

Preparin...
WASHINGTON'S class "A" high school basketball tourney gets underway tomorrow with the usual array of high caliber caasha squads on hand. When sixteen teams of such class meet in a tourney, the season record means little, and any one of the teams could come out on top.

The natural final would be between Walla Walla and Port Angeles, rated No. 1 and No. 2 respectively in the Associated Press' final high school basketball poll for Washington.

Walla Walla, lead by all-state center Harlow Tucker, has a host of veterans back from last year's squad which lost an overtime thriller 50-48 to the state champs, Highline, in a semi-final match.

The Blue Devils have lost only one game this season while taking the measure of a couple of college frosh teams.

Port Angeles has rolled out an equally impressive victory skein, with their only loss being to the University of Washington freshmen.

However, it rarely happens that the two pre-tourney favorites meet in the climax contest. They may meet in any round, or not at all. But when, and if, they do meet, the best way to name a favorite would probably be by flipping a coin. (Mine reads Port Angeles.)

The fourteen teams out to upset the pre-tourney favorites are Aberdeen, Longview, Yakima, Stadium of Tacoma, Clarkston, Roosevelt of Seattle, Vancouver, Mount Vernon, Blaine, West Valley, Burlington-Edison, Puyallup, Ellensburg, and Bremerton.

It's too bad that it can't be worked out so that the class "B" tourney winner could compete in the "A" meet, or else have a play-off with "A" champs to crown the real state champ each year.

Even though the "A" schools are much larger, they can use only five players at a time, the same as the "B" schools.

LWJHS Defeats Redmond Junior High, 29-21;
Court, Ilenfeldt Star In Low Scoring Contest

Norm Ihlenfeldt and Doug Court sparked the home team. Panthers of LWJHS is a 29-21 victory over the Redmond Junior High last Wednesday night in the rubber game of their three game series.

Ihlenfeldt, Court, and Vic Ferguson led the Panthers with 10, 9, and 6 points respectively. Foss, with 7; and Ivan Hestikind, a younger brother of LWJHS alumnus Odein Hestikind, with 9 were Coach Williamson's high point men.

The Panthers grabbed an early lead in the first quarter and led 15 to 5 midway in the second period. The Redmen, however, came fighting from behind to trail by only 3 points at halftime, 15 to 12.

Coach Bill McLaughlin's junior Kangaroos maintained their lead throughout the second half despite one Redmond threat but brought the visitors within two points of the home team with about four minutes remaining. The Panthers successfully stalled out the remaining time to become the Junior High champions of school district No. 414.

Since both of these teams finished high up in the northern half of the Puget Sound league they should produce several likely candidates for LWJHS varsity of years to come.

NEW COACH WILL BUILD TEAM AROUND FOUR LETTERMEN AND NEW PROSPECTS

A new coach, four lettermen, and seven spots wide open create the outlook for the 1952 baseball squad

Coach Herb Godfrey, last year's assistant coach, received his new position soon after the resignation of John Smith was banded in last Spring. Mr. Godfrey played ball three years at Lincoln High of Tacoma, three years on the W. S. C. varsity, some summer semi-pro ball, and acted as playing-coach of a championship team of the 76th division of the army. He also took the Little League Red Sox to a championship last summer.

The returning lettermen are Marvin Thorstensen, pitcher and first baseman; Larry Dobbs, second baseman; Dale Edmonds, pitcher and outfielder, and Ron Hamilton, outfielder.

"Positions are wide open to all candidates," says Godfrey, and a large turnout of Sophomores and newcomers is expected."

Kangaroos Wallop Kent Royals, 61-31;
Kent Loses To Spartans

The Lake Washington Kangaroos scored 29-21 victory over the Kent Meridian Royals by a 61-31 score on February 19, on the Laker home court.

The week before the Kangs' lost to Sumner in their championship gym by a close count of 50-44.

Dick Weinhbrecht was high point man for Kent with 17 points. Bob Bolstad showed his shooting prowess in the last quarter by the Warriors, Joe Hall gathered 10 points in the second half. But a 12-point spurt in the last quarter by the Warriors, coupled with the fact that the Lakers hit only five counters, put Clover Park ahead 60-59 at the final gun sounded.

Mary Thorstensen and Bob Bolstad lead the Kangs' attack with 19 and 11 points respectively. For the Warriors, Joe Hall matched Thorstensen's output while Art Gethman equalled Bolstad's. In the earlier contest the Warriors also overcame a deficit as Hall gathered 10 points in the fourth quarter and a total of 21. Gethman pitched in 13 to aid the Kangs. Bolstad and Larry Dobbs gathered 11 each to lead the Kangs' scoring column.

The Laker junior varsity also tasted defeat twice; they lost 53-49 to Walla Walla and went down to defeat 49-30 in the finale.

Kang Varsity Picks All-Opponent Team

The members of the Kang varsity recently elected an all-opponent team from the Puget Sound league foes to aid Coach Smith in casting Lake Washington's all-opponent votes.

The Laker's all-opponent first squad includes Don McDougal, Highline; Bob Danois, White River; George Bruzak, Renton; Joe Hall, Clover Park; and Mackie McAllister, Sumner.

The second team is composed of Keith Peterson and Bob Iversen, Puyallup; Earl Brodt, Renton; Howie Hansen, Sumner; and Rich Weinhbrecht, Kent-Meridian.

Each member selected two teams, with two points given for each first team vote and one point for each second team ballot.

Others scoring were Mary Thorstensen, 5, Bob Burton, 3, and Gene Jacobson, 2.

Mackie McAllister of Sumner led his team to their hard-fought victory by making 15. Stan Tussell displayed good shooting form to dump in 17 points for the Kangs.

Mary Thorstensen, Larry Dobbs, and Jerry Johansen left the Summer game with five fouls each.
Clover Park Maplecourt Duel Was Final Game For Six Senior Basketeers; Four Of Them Starters

Marv Thorstensen, Kangaroo Senior, Honorably Mentioned

Marv Thorstensen, Lake Washington basketeer, received an honorable mention on the Puget Sound league All-Conference team, recently announced.

Don McDougall, Highline's all-stater from last year's state champion squad, and Macky McAllister, Sumner, were unanimously selected for the first five. The other three were Bob Iversen, Puyallup; George Strugar, Renton, and Bob Dancoine, White River.

The second team consists of Rich Weinbrecht, Kent; Joe Hall, Renton, and Bob Dancoine, White River.

The honor mentions were given to Thorstensen, Hansen, Sumner; Cavanaugh, Auburn; Dancoine, White River.

The All-Conference team is picked annually by the coaches of each school. Marv will probably be the last player from Lake Washington to be listed on those teams from the Puget Sound league, due to the new league changes coming in.

The top squad this year consists of seniors.

The Kangaroo quintet faced the Central Park Warriors Friday night on the rivets' floor. Six seniors were wearing the purple and white uniforms and fighting for Lake Washington for the last time on the maplecourt.

Although their record for the season didn't show many victories, their ability and spirit will leave a huge gap to be filled next year with only two lettermen returning.

The following seniors have performed for Lake Washington all season:

Bob Burton, a letterman and an agressive guard, who has done a fine job on the backboards and in scoring.

Bob Bolstad, a letterman and lanky center for the Kangaroos. In games he always managed to keep the ball away from those little players with the aid of his 6'5" frame and big hands.

Marvin Thorstensen, a letterman and a fine hustler on the backboards. Fans watched for his driving lay-in shots.

Lary Dobbs, an agressive guard and sure ball-handler. His long shot gathered many points for the Kangaroos.

Ken Sturm, a hustling forward. Gene Jacobson, an agressive forward.

Marv Thorstensen was chosen by his team mates as honorary captain and Bob Burton won the inspirational player award.

The team will be honored with the honor.

Mr. Otto Smith, the Kangaroo head basketball mentor, has resigned from his duties in the Lake Washington school district. He will continue his teaching duties for the remainder of the school year.

Mr. Smith, graduated from the College of Puget Sound in 1937, after starting on the maplecourt and baseball diamonds for four years. He then compiled a remarkable record at Maryville high while coaching four years prior to taking over the coahn helm at Lake Washington in 1942. He has been head coach in basketball here for ten seasons.

In his first year the Kangs grabbed the runner-up spot in the Lakeside league. During nine years in the Puget Sound league he has led two teams to the state tournament, placing eighth in 1944 and fifth in 1946. He has also coached two runners-up and his team has an overall PSL record of 50 wins and 55 losses.

Mr. Smith also served as head baseball coach from the time it was re-established in Lake Washington until the end of last season when he resigned from that duty.

Monroe Captures "B" Tourney Title From Eastonville

Monroe High School won the state "B" tournament by turning back the Eastonville eagers 51 to 31 last Friday night in Tacoma.

The next six places in the tourney were filled by Lake Stevens, Goldendale, Sequim, Yelm, Chelan and Kahlotus, in that order.

Kahlotus, the Cinderellas team of the meet, finished eighth in the field of 16 despite the fact that there are only 33 students attending Kahlotus High School.

Howard Vebeck of Tonasket turned in the outstanding individual performance of the tournament as he dropped in 30 points against Mead.

OTTO SMITH RESIGNS FROM LAKE WASHINGTON DISTRICT

Mr. Otto Smith, the Kangaroo Head Basketball Mentor, has resigned from his duties in the Lake Washington school district. It was announced last week. He will continue his teaching duties for the remainder of the school year.

Mr. Smith, graduated from the College of Puget Sound in 1937, after starting on the maplecourt and baseball diamonds for four years. He then compiled a remarkable record at Maryville high while coaching four years prior to taking over the coach helm at Lake Washington in 1942.

He has been head basketball coach in Lake Washington for 10 years. In his first year the Kangs grabbed the runner-up spot in the Lakeside league. During nine years in the Puget Sound league he has led two teams to the state tournament, placing eighth in 1944 and fifth in 1946. He has also coached two runners-up and his team has an overall PSL record of 50 wins and 55 losses.

Mr. Smith also served as head baseball coach from the time it was re-established in Lake Washington until the end of last season when he resigned from that duty.

Arlene Gunderson, junior, top-all women golfer in the recent Hole-in-One benefit contest. Her shot was 16½ inches from the hole.

Triplet Bear Cubs

Advisers from the junior and senior high schools will present a panel discussion of the counseling services offered by the two schools at a Jr.-Sr. P.T.A. meeting, recently announced by Mrs. Mabel Gutlehr, president of this P.T.A. group.

The meeting will be held at the Junior High School auditorium March 13 at 8 p.m.

Russell Boyd, Mrs. Gladys Breshears, and Mrs. Elizabeth Leach, representing the high school, and Robert Lindsey and Mrs. Laura Higgins from the Junior High are members of the panel.

These counselors will give a discussion of their work, including their aims, problems, and future plans.

The teachers furnish vocational guidance, help with registering students, and students in getting scholarships and jobs, and counsel students about their plans for college.

In addition, the counselors give personal help to the students concerning their problems with teachers, fellow students, grades, and the subjects they are taking.

Visit Biology Classes

Unusually high visitors to Lake Washington high school last week were three, 2-month old bear cubs.

Vona Johnson, breeder of the cubs, and his wife Jean, who are painting with his dogs near Redmond when he came upon a mother bear and her three cubs, took them in and in order to save his dogs he had to shoot the bear. Mr. Johnson searched around and found in a nearby cave, three baby bears.

Mrs. Johnson has been feeding the cubs on warm milk from a baby bottle. Mrs. Ruby Christ, biology teacher, brought the cubs to school for the children to observe and feed them. The cubs went to Woodland Park last week, where they will live.

Skiing every Saturday afternoon, the cubs have found many activities in which to participate during high school at Lake Washington. As a senior she was a member of the class jewelry committee, worked on programs for the class prom, and is a member of the Girls’ club charm committee.

These plans and G.A.A. consume much of her extracurricular time. She was a member of the recently dissolved Board of Control.

The girl of the month for February is Sandra Snyder, a junior.

Howard Pease Speaks At Press Conference

Howard Pease, well known author of adventure stories, was guest speaker February 22 and 23 at the annual All-Press Clinic banquet held at the new Student Union Building at the University of Washington.

Six Lake Washington students were members of the press group.

Nearly seventy students and their advisers attended this annual affair. They represented 124 schools from the six western states of Oregon, Idaho, Montana, California, Utah, and Washington.

Other outstanding speakers included Paul Ewing, reporter from the Portland Oregonian, Emmett Watson, sports columnist from the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Edwin Gutman, Seattle Times reporter and winner of the Pulitzer Prize for reporting for 1939, and H. P. “Dick” Overstreet, Clair president of the University of Washington.
