Three To Speak At Commencement

As a climax to the workshop, the chorus performance will provide an opportunity for prospective members to see first-hand the job a large chorus can do.

Qualifiers Track Meet at Bothell, 3:30 p.m.

Chorus To Sing At Junior High

Fourth and fifth period choruses will combine to perform for the Redmond Junior High School student body at 8 p.m. on May 28, at 8 a.m. The chorus, under the direction of Mr. Jack Kurz, will do several numbers. During one of them, the Redmond students will be asked to sing along in order to see how it feels to sing with a large group.

In addition to entertainment, the chorus will provide an opportunity for prospective members to see the first, second and third place band.

Traveling to Wenatchee with the band will be Redmond Junior High Majorette, Georginne Heibner and third place band.

Seniors Lead Honor Roll

Seniors lead the honor roll with 13 percent of their class making honors. Juniors had 10 percent and sophomores, 6 percent. Slightly under ten percent of the entire student body made the honor roll.

To be on the honor roll a student must have a 3.01 or better grade point average and be enrolled in at least five subjects.

Included in the plays will be "The American Way," being in two parts, and "What Price Glory," being in one part.

The complete performance will take one day.

Let’s face it, seniors get it every time we turn around. There were more seniors than underclassmen in our school this year, so there was talk all year about changing the situation. Still, not much was ever actually done to remedy it. Underclassmen, mostly looking to seniors, asked what we need to set an example. Accordingly, the senior class is focused upon more frequently for any misbehavior.

When we begin anticipating graduation, we are diagnosed as coming down with “senioritis.” This “senioritis” is also referred to as the leading cause of plugging grade-point ratios. Flatterly there is that familiar old saying, “seniors will be seniors!”

Now, people want to put seniors under a microscope to see what makes them tick at election time. Many feel the notoriously “uncaring” seniors should inform an incognito of inexpensive newspapers and free public libraries. We cannot use the excuse that we aren’t interested. We have a right to know everything about what’s happening, as well as using it.

Scoops from the Troops
By Sue and Liz

Few of us realize that within our school there are numerous students who have devoted their time to unusual activities. This week we have previewed just a few of the students that excel in fields that may seem a little out of the ordinary.

***
Junior ACHSAY NEYLAND has been studying voice professionally for two years in hopes of becoming an opera singer. Achsah has also won several honors such as being accepted for the chorus in "Opera on Wheels." She has performed in the Seattle Philharmonic Chorus and won an award in last year's Earle Wik Music Festival. In June, Achsah will audition for a $400 scholarship grant affiliated with the Portland Rose Festival.

MARY PETERS is devoting herself to the theater. She is now directing three plays: "The American Way," "What Price is Glory," and "All the Way Home." Mary has been a National Thespian for two years and wants to attend Emerson College in Boston to study drama. Mary has been in both Theatre East and Belair Playhouse productions.

Many people around school are unaware of GLORIA CHAPIN's talents. Gloria, a senior, who has played the trombone for seven years and the piano for just about as long, played first chair trombone in the All-State band and plays second chair in the Seattle Youth Symphony. Gloria plans first chair in the school band and orchestra and has been accepted at the University of Washington where she plans to major in music.

PATTY BROWER, a junior, has been skin diving for five years. Patty does all her skin diving with her brother and her father, who is an instructor. During the summer they go to the San Juan Islands and during the winter they do their diving in local lakes.

JOE WALLACE, senior, has been skating and playing hockey for 11 years and has been involved with organized hockey for six years. Joe started playing in Montreal, Canada, where he lived until moving to the United States. In Seattle, he played at the Civic Ice Arena for the Seattle Elks of the Seattle Junior Hockey League. Joe holds several honors — he has been named the most valuable player for two years in a row in the Juvenile Division of the Seattle Junior Hockey League, he has played with the Seattle All-Star team for three years, and he may possibly be sent to Los Angeles to take part in a hockey tournament this summer.

Europe Beckons

Students To Travel Abroad

This summer will be the second year that groups of high school students will travel through Europe as People-to-People Ambassadors. Lake Washington students will have an opportunity to participate in the program.

People-to-People is a program for the purpose of creating good-will and international understanding here and abroad.

To qualify for this exciting job as a student ambassador, you must be a junior or senior in high school with a good performance record and an interest in international affairs.

The ambassadors-to-be will attend a series of pre-travel orientation meetings. The actual travel program will start on June 16 in Washington D. C. Students will then travel to various parts of Europe.

Senora Carol Land de Cabrera, a former Lake Washington student now living in Lima, Peru, is presently doing volunteer work for People-to-People.

One of her main goals is to affiliate some of the Peru schools with People-to-People. She says, "It's a wonderful thing for the pupils and teachers. It really helps them to learn more about the world and its people, and I honestly believe that international understanding can be promoted by starting this way, with the school children."

Complete information can be obtained from Mrs. Agnese Conn in Room 118.

Brave Boys Catch Crook

Now you can go to sleep at night knowing that your house will hold the same articles when you wake up as it did when you closed shop. Two fearless Honda-riding juniors, Doug Robinson and Lynn Lisenby, caught a shoplifter frantically running from Penney's Bellevue store, Monday, March 30.

When the heroes appeared in court to testify Thursday, April 9, they were surprised to find that besides being wanted for taking goods worth $90, the man was charged for a California murder trial.

Steve Foote, junior, has been named as overall winner of the Math-Science Fair for his project entitled "Microwave Radar."
Due to the Alaskan earthquake Karl Bartholomy is back to complete his senior year at Lake Washington. A letterman last year, Karl will greatly help the Kang track team.

Frank Rodgers

Frank Rodgers a third transfer to L. W., came from San Antonio, Texas. He throws the discus on the Kang track team. At Texas he walked away 5-0 with a clean swept singles, boys doubles and mixed doubles. At Mount Si the Kangs walked away 5-0 with a clean swept in each event.

Several practice matches have been scheduled inter-precured with the regular season games. Coach Russ Velot commented that so far the Kangaroo racket squad has had a very successful season and is in good contention for the league title. He also added that the Sammamish match Wednesday, April 29 will be the big match in determining which team will take this years title.

Highlands' Invitational tournament which will include the top three teams in each league from schools in the surrounding area is to take place Saturday, May 9. Last year Lake Washington placed 2nd in the tournament.

With the Redmond High coaches announced, their programs can now discuss to give incentives to would-be athletes and create interest in the student body and the parents.

Running a balanced "T", Redmond football will be very similar to the way football is played at L. W. During the season, the varsity will play such teams as Tols and Tyee. This is to give players experience and develop depth in the squad. The sophomores will play a regular Kingco schedule.

Like the other coaches, Mr. Con Sampson is optimistic about his program. He feels that there will be more boys turning out for football because there has been no previously chosen team and there will be more opportunities for the boys to show their ability.

Building from scratch is new to wrestling Coach Ralph Walter who began the Auburn high school program. Mr. Walter is very enthusiastic but he has to give incentive to be more boys turning out for foot- ball. He feels that there will be more boys turning out for football because there has been no previously chosen team and there will be more opportunities for the boys to show their ability.
