“Casuals” String Quintet Forms

Marieth Nystrom, first violin, Linda Lodge, second violin, Jack Robert, viola, Martha Schroeder, cello, and Sherwin Shinn, bass and piano, have formed a string instrumental group called the “Casuals” under the direction of Mr. Nelson Tanaco.

Their next engagement is a variety show for the Houghton Fire Department in May. During the past few months they have played at the Elk’s Club in Kirkland, at the Rose Hill Presbyterian Church and at the Green Lake Methodist Church.

The group chose their name because of their informal and “peppy” tunes. They play songs such as “Let’s Dance,” “Moonlight in Vermont,” “June in Bustin’ Out All Over,” and “In the Mood for Love.”

Photo by Joanna Fowler

Revelle Staff Sign-ups Due

REVELLE applications for next year’s annual staff are now available for juniors in room 120. Graphic Arts requires many hours of individual endeavor and students who apply should be willing to work hard all year.

The basic requirements are that students be over all good students and have a B in English.

Applications may be picked up today and must be returned to Mrs. Aitken by March 19 to be considered for the 1966 REVELLE staff.

Positions on the annual include: editor in chief, who is responsible for the book’s form and overall supervision, the layout staff, which does all the page design, art work and cover design and the photo staff that selects all the pictures.

Photography minded students are urged to apply, as two staff photographers will be selected to meet the growing demand for individual annual pictures.

The copy staff does all the writing of running heads, captions and copy blocks while the typists make running heads, captions and put on display in Spokane in May. Joan Avey for a block-printed textile, Robyn Lindsley for a hand-painted tapestry, Martha Schroeder, bass and piano, have formed a string instrumental group called the “Casuals” under the direction of Mr. Nelson Tanaco.

Their next engagement is a variety show for the Houghton Fire Department in May. During the past few months they have played at the Elk’s Club in Kirkland, at the Rose Hill Presbyterian Church and at the Green Lake Methodist Church.

The group chose their name because of their informal and “peppy” tunes. They play songs such as “Let’s Dance,” “Moonlight in Vermont,” “June in Bustin’ Out All Over,” and “In the Mood for Love.”

Photo by Joanna Fowler

Planning Committee Formed To Re-Write Constitution

Revising the school constitution, improving Student Council, pupil communications, remedying student apathy and generally trying to improve student government is the task undertaken by the planning committee of the newly formed Constitutional Convention.

The committee was organized by Student Council, passing a motion presented by Walter Cooper, senior. It advocated the creation of a committee to re-evaluate student government. The motion was passed unanimously.

Members of the committee include seniors Laura Blackman, Diane Beardsley, Don Evans, Brad English, Francie Johnston, Marcie Kellogg, Karen Kreyhi, Mary Laschewitsch, Jan Pollard, Sharon Smyser, Diana Siemens and Lena Thomas.

Juniors are John Bakke, Julie King and Bob Maddox. Sophomore representatives include Rich Ashton, Cindy Chase, Ken Davidson, Carrie Lincoln and Sue McCaffery.

On Tuesday of last week, the executive committee passed out pupil sheets to all students. The questionnaires were designed to reflect opinions of student leadership, representation and the school constitution. The answers showed apathy, and also, concern with the new rules committee, poor representation, over-powering administration rule and lack of action by Student Council this year.

During the public meeting held last Tuesday, and the panel discussion held yesterday for Student Bureau, anyone could bring up new ideas for the improving school Constitution and its functions.

Arguers Top Bothell

Barry Flanders and Mike Rich­ardson were both of their debates at a meet held here, Wednesday, March 3. Chris Condon and Mike Elfinson split giving the Kangs a victory over their opponents, Bothell and Bellevue. The Kangs won three while losing only one.

The topic for discussion concerned whether nuclear arms should be controlled by an international organization or not.

The Kangs were league leading Sammamish, Federal Way and Tolt. The Kangs finished second in that meet.

Photo by Joanna Fowler

Seniors See Legislature In Tour of State Capital

By Paul Butterfield

Watching state government in action provided an educational experience for Sandy Harrington, Don Evans and me as we traveled to the state capital to see for ourselves the operation of the Washington legislature.

On Tuesday, March 2, we headed for the legislature in Olympia, arriving at 9:30 at the 14 building complex and largest in the Pacific Northwest. The legislative building is the largest and most impressive at the capital. Its dome races 287 feet from the base and commands a regal view of the Cascades and the waters of Puget Sound.

This building houses the Senate and House of Representatives which has been in session since January 12. It is one of the country’s largest and trendiest statehouses. The session is running much behind the Feb. 27, after 47 days of debate, both houses of the legislature are now free to begin work on more than 1,200 bills that have been submitted.

We saw the Senate convene at 10:30 with the presentation of the flag and prayer. After a few minutes, the senators lost interest in the proceedings and began to read the morning paper, talk to other senators or walk around the floor. Some heated discussions finally developed but any issue which led to prolonged debate was quickly tabled and effectively killed.

The House of Representatives, with 99 members compared to 50 in the Senate, had more lively debates. Before adjourning at noon one representative reported that a house small team had beaten the senator’s five by a score of 62-38 and were going to challenge the legislature next month. This news was received amid rounds of applause from the house.

Leisle Johnson, a Lake Washington junior, was a current page and as such we had to interview her. We were escorted through the caucus and committees rooms, printing offices and the governor’s rooms to see Mr. Evans, all places which tourists are not normally allowed to visit.

All three of us were surprised to find that the real legislature was not so different from the Rufer-Brazel legislative session after all.

Photo by Joanna Fowler

Four Cop High Awards In Scholastic Art Contest

Five awards were given to Lake Washington entries in the Scholastic Art Contest, held from February 20 to March 6 at Seattle’s Frederick and Nelson’s. A gold key and four certificates of merit were awarded at Frederick’s during a luncheon Saturday, March 6.

Four awards were given in the state in the crafts competition, with Nanci Presser taking two of them. Nanci won the gold key and a blue ribbon national finalist for her entry in crafts, a cathedral glass decorator screen. She also received a certificate of place for her hand-crafted black walnut divider bowl, again in the crafts division.

Certificates of merit, equaling second place positions in their divisions, were given to Sharon Avey for a block-printed textile, Robyn Lindsley for a hand-painted tapestry, and Laura Alexander for a pencil drawing of the late President Kennedy.

Those entries submitted to the Scholastic Contest and rejected for showing have been referred to the Washington Parent-Teacher Association’s annual convention display.

The works will be judged and put on display in Spokane in May. Joan Whitcombe and John Phillips have been asked to submit their works for the three-day showing.

DEBUT Sales To Begin; Harrington New Editor

DEBUT, the student magazine, is finally here. Second semester’s DEBUT will start soon.

After weeks of unavoidable delay, the publication has been completed and the anthology is now ready for the printed page, Friday, March 19. Price is 35 cents per copy.

Articles range from a poem in the style of John Lennon to serious short stories.

Entries were selected from contributions made at the beginning of the year. Until publication, those pieces chosen for printing are kept secret.

Sales will continue until all copies are sold. Only 300 were printed, so it is suggested that copies be purchased in the price to insure receiving a copy.

Sandy Harrington, senior, has been appointed second semester editor of DEBUT. She will choose her staff and start work very soon. Manuscripts, which are to be submitted for second semester’s magazine, should be neat, legible, and original. The author’s name and class should be included. Short stories, poems, haiku, and humorous stories are welcome. A later announcement will designate where the stories may be turned in.
aren’t it great to be a student? it certainly is if you’re an athlete. then you can appreciate the true value of a.s.b., membership.

one of the great things about being a student is the opportunity to take part in so many activities — homecoming, athletics and drama. it gives us a chance to share ideas and interests with our classmates. through these activities we gain knowledge and satisfaction, and we become better people for it.

many students have found that no where else can they make so many friends. it is a rewarding experience to know them and work with them for the betterment of the school.

the opportunities for students to participate in activities of the school are as numerous as they are varied. they can serve on student committees, be in clubs, pursue interests in science or art and do service for out-of-school organizations.

the chances for service are almost unlimited. all activities offer a challenge and the satisfaction of doing a job.

the student who wants to devote his time and talent to one or more of his school’s activities should take steps to make his desires known. those who are reluctant to come forward are only cheating themselves a job.

sportsmanship: a coach’s view

editor, the world:

good sportspersonship comes before anything in any contest, but how many non-athletes really know it? sportspersonship (i) sportspersonship has probably had more words written about it by persons knowing less about it than any other subject.

to be a good sportsperson one must always compete to the best of his ability within the confines of the rules. rules will occur in any contest because they are unavoidable: consequently, allowances are made for these unavoidable incidences in the rules of the game.

the basketball player who attempts to check his man properly by keeping himself between his opponent and the basket is not going to find the man a ally on the wrist. the guard driving for the basket like he should will allow nothing to stop him; if he finds, it will not be by a brush on the arm.

a football player attempting to neutralize a blocker will not always do so with a blow to his shoulder pad. there will be collisions, and when the game is played with determination of purpose, these collisions will be severe. it is the responsibility of the coach to teach young people to compete with all of the ability at their disposal for the complete duration of every contest in the attempt to win. this complete effort every athlete gives for his own self-respect, to the game itself.

if every contest is played with complete dedication and total effort it can be no regrets, wia, lone or draw.

the school, team or contestant wins. it is the responsibility of the coach to teach young people how to compete with all of the ability at their disposal for the complete duration of every contest in the attempt to win. this complete effort every athlete gives for his own self-respect, to the game itself.

if every contest is played with complete dedication and total effort it can be no regrets, wia, lone or draw.

the school, team or contestant wins. it is the responsibility of the coach to teach young people how to compete with all of the ability at their disposal for the complete duration of every contest in the attempt to win. this complete effort every athlete gives for his own self-respect, to the game itself.

the true sportsman must make a complete effort using all of his speed, strength, skill and courage in every contest. with this complete and constant effort an athlete or team will find victory more often than defeat. true sportspersonship and wrestling are constantly associated.

the road to popularity is not paved with victory. many fans, students and coaches, resent the constant winner; this is human nature. the sportsman will admire a winner because he knows what it means to be a fair sportsman must pay to be good.

this is sportspersonship.

jim jilgen

a constitution?

editor, the world:

for some time now our student government has been uprooting on a broken devil, without constitu­ tion. now, finally, something is going to be done about it.

student council has created a constitutional convention, which has been charged with writing a new constitution, and thus creating a new government for our school.

already those of us who have been chosen to get the new constitution started, have spent a great deal of time and effort. we’re convinced that the students of this school can show that they are not only willing, but able to run their own government.

the constitutional com­ mittee can’t do it alone because he knows what help the help of every student. each and everyone of our student body must contribute to the crea­ tion of this new government.

there has been much said about all the students getting a voice in their government. soon is now the time to open up your mouth and participate.

already now, and we are all aware of this, any of us can put in his two cents as to how he thinks his govern­ ment should be run.

the road to popularity is not paved with victory. many fans, students and coaches, resent the constant winner; this is human nature. the sportsman will admire a winner because he knows what it means to be a fair sportsman must pay to be good.

this is sportspersonship.

jim jilgen

a constitution?

editor, the world:

for some time now our student government has been uprooting on a broken devil, without constitu­ tion. now, finally, something is going to be done about it.

student council has created a constitutional convention, which has been charged with writing a new constitution, and thus creating a new government for our school.

already those of us who have been chosen to get the new constitution started, have spent a great deal of time and effort. we’re convinced that the students of this school can show that they are not only willing, but able to run their own government.

the constitutional com­ mittee can’t do it alone because he knows what help the help of every student. each and everyone of our student body must contribute to the crea­ tion of this new government.

there has been much said about all the students getting a voice in their government. soon is now the time to open up your mouth and participate.

already now, and we are all aware of this, any of us can put in his two cents as to how he thinks his govern­ ment should be run.

the road to popularity is not paved with victory. many fans, students and coaches, resent the constant winner; this is human nature. the sportsman will admire a winner because he knows what it means to be a fair sportsman must pay to be good.

this is sportspersonship.

jim jilgen

a constitution?

editor, the world:

for some time now our student government has been uprooting on a broken devil, without constitu­ tion. now, finally, something is going to be done about it.

student council has created a constitutional convention, which has been charged with writing a new constitution, and thus creating a new government for our school.

already those of us who have been chosen to get the new constitution started, have spent a great deal of time and effort. we’re convinced that the students of this school can show that they are not only willing, but able to run their own government.

the constitutional com­ mittee can’t do it alone because he knows what help the help of every student. each and everyone of our student body must contribute to the crea­ tion of this new government.

there has been much said about all the students getting a voice in their government. soon is now the time to open up your mouth and participate.

already now, and we are all aware of this, any of us can put in his two cents as to how he thinks his govern­ ment should be run.

the road to popularity is not paved with victory. many fans, students and coaches, resent the constant winner; this is human nature. the sportsman will admire a winner because he knows what it means to be a fair sportsman must pay to be good.

this is sportspersonship.

jim jilgen

a constitution?

editor, the world:

for some time now our student government has been uprooting on a broken devil, without constitu­ tion. now, finally, something is going to be done about it.

student council has created a constitutional convention, which has been charged with writing a new constitution, and thus creating a new government for our school.

already those of us who have been chosen to get the new constitution started, have spent a great deal of time and effort. we’re convinced that the students of this school can show that they are not only willing, but able to run their own government.

the constitutional com­ mittee can’t do it alone because he knows what help the help of every student. each and everyone of our student body must contribute to the crea­ tion of this new government.

there has been much said about all the students getting a voice in their government. soon is now the time to open up your mouth and participate.

already now, and we are all aware of this, any of us can put in his two cents as to how he thinks his govern­ ment should be run.

the road to popularity is not paved with victory. many fans, students and coaches, resent the constant winner; this is human nature. the sportsman will admire a winner because he knows what it means to be a fair sportsman must pay to be good.

this is sportspersonship.

jim jilgen

a constitution?

editor, the world:

for some time now our student government has been uprooting on a broken devil, without constitu­ tion. now, finally, something is going to be done about it.

student council has created a constitutional convention, which has been charged with writing a new constitution, and thus creating a new government for our school.

already those of us who have been chosen to get the new constitution started, have spent a great deal of time and effort. we’re convinced that the students of this school can show that they are not only willing, but able to run their own government.

the constitutional com­ mittee can’t do it alone because he knows what help the help of every student. each and everyone of our student body must contribute to the crea­ tion of this new government.

there has been much said about all the students getting a voice in their government. soon is now the time to open up your mouth and participate.

already now, and we are all aware of this, any of us can put in his two cents as to how he thinks his govern­ ment should be run.

the road to popularity is not paved with victory. many fans, students and coaches, resent the constant winner; this is human nature. the sportsman will admire a winner because he knows what it means to be a fair sportsman must pay to be good.

this is sportspersonship.

jim jilgen

a constitution?

editor, the world:

for some time now our student government has been uprooting on a broken devil, without constitu­ tion. now, finally, something is going to be done about it.

student council has created a constitutional convention, which has been charged with writing a new constitution, and thus creating a new government for our school.

already those of us who have been chosen to get the new constitution started, have spent a great deal of time and effort. we’re convinced that the students of this school can show that they are not only willing, but able to run their own government.

the constitutional com­ mittee can’t do it alone because he knows what help the help of every student. each and everyone of our student body must contribute to the crea­ tion of this new government.

there has been much said about all the students getting a voice in their government. soon is now the time to open up your mouth and participate.

already now, and we are all aware of this, any of us can put in his two cents as to how he thinks his govern­ ment should be run.

the road to popularity is not paved with victory. many fans, students and coaches, resent the constant winner; this is human nature. the sportsman will admire a winner because he knows what it means to be a fair sportsman must pay to be good.

this is sportspersonship.

jim jilgen

a constitution?

editor, the world:

for some time now our student government has been uprooting on a broken devil, without constitu­ tion. now, finally, something is going to be done about it.

student council has created a constitutional convention, which has been charged with writing a new constitution, and thus creating a new government for our school.

already those of us who have been chosen to get the new constitution started, have spent a great deal of time and effort. we’re convinced that the students of this school can show that they are not only willing, but able to run their own government.
SeniorsPlanForFuture

Spring is in the air, and with the sun comes thoughts of the end of school and college. For the 500 graduating seniors, there are not many idle hours. They are busy making plans for the future.

Let us project ourselves one year into the future and see if we can get an idea of what some of the graduates may be doing this time next year.

"I want to go on a two year binge, that's all!" commented one senior gleefully. "Well, Jim [7]" (?) this time next year you'll still have one whole glorious year ahead of you (if your money holds out)"

Most seniors do have definite plans. Nancy Ernst is absolutely sure that she wants to be a policeman (although her best friend Karmon Hudlow claims that last week Nancy wanted to be a minister)

What about Gregg Field, who applied to Dartmouth? Gregg received an application all right, but he threw it away! When your reporter frantically asked why, why, why, Gregg replied that they wanted pages and pages of information, "Everything but my hat size." Gregg has now applied to W.S.U.

"Liz Wilson is also going to W.S.U., "My boyfriend, who goes there, convinced me of that," Liz explained style.

Nancy Corkcille will be studying at Colorado College in Colorado Springs. She's not sure why she chose Colorado, but she qouted, "I don't know how to ski, so that's not my reason!"

Many seniors want to go to college because it gives them an opportunity to get away from home. But isn't Nathan Kirk over doing it? She's applied to colleges in Rhode Island, Illinois and Wisconsin.

"I want to go to college too," commented John Plagier earnestly, "I've made applications, but no one has accepted me yet."

StudentsVisitMercerIsland

"Great L.W., require Football 101?" asked Mr. James, head football coach at Mercer Island, when he discovered that four L.W. students had applied to Honor Society exchange students, attending his class, had no one to economics.

"No, but seniors are required to maintain a 1.9 health," said Jan McLaughlin.

"That's where Jolgen gets in," said Mr. James, much to the delight of his class.

The vice principal told the visiting students that the school would go anywhere, but Jenny McFarland, Jan McLaughlin and Sharon Smoyer found that wasn't true when they were quickly whisked out of annual staff.

In the sudden rush released our hereafter, Colorado Island, classes are much the same as ours. The seniors, however, have many more luxuries than those there.

Senior study hall, a senior lounge, complete with radio and coke machine and the senior balcony in the auditorium, where only seniors eat lunch, are part of a typical day at Mercer Island.

The Student Council seemed like home when it began discussing the school sign in the Council for the past two and a half hours. The committee report lasted for 30 minutes.

Another feature at M.I. is a 40 minute lunch. There are two groups and no split classes fourth period. But with a longer lunch, comes a longer day — in at 7:45 and out at 3:20.

A student at Arizona State University, Miss Van Dyke plans to return to school next fall; she is majoring in speech and drama, with hopes of receiving her master's degree in the field of radio and television.

Leisure time finds Miss America enjoying the companionship of her very handsome dummy, Curley, an excellent ventriloquist, Miss Van Dyke preserved Curley in the talent portion of the Miss America Pageant, in Miami Beach, Florida.
Kangs Cop 4th

Losing a tough one on the Bo¬ thedral Cougars' home court, 55-43, the Kangs wound up the sea¬ sion with a 10-5 record and four¬ th place in the league. Bothell will represent the Kingco Con¬ cference for the second season in a row in the Regional Class AA Kangcp tournament with a 1-6 record. The Tues., Feb. 26, at the University of Washington, the Kangs would have stood a chance in the finals to pin his opponent — doing this in his last match by defeating his Shelton opponent.

Coach Musser congratulates Bruce Shults after winning the state championship in the 123 lb. class division.

Photo by Brian Howe

Two weeks ago at the State tournament at the University of Washington, Bruce wrestled four matches, losing only once to a fellow grappler from Summit.

Not only was Bruce the only wrestler from the Kangco League to place, he remained the only wrestler in the finals to pin his opponent — doing this in his last match by defeating his Shelton opponent.

Roy Grospe, senior, the other Kang grappler who fought his way to state from sub-district and district, made the semi-finals in the 130 lb. weight division but was defeated in his third match by Jerry James, Cashmere.

Roy has been wrestling in varsity league competi¬ tion since his sophomore year — going to district matches in both his sophomore and junior year, taking second in conference in his sophomore year, then wrestling in the 115 lb. weight class.

Why do students wrestle? What is it that makes wrestling different from other sports?— Battling against one and one instead of a team makes it different from any other sport. You have no chance to blame but yourself if you lose,” commented Roy.

Both Roy and Bruce seemed to agree that there is a good personal feeling in defeating your opponent and knowing that it was your effort alone which brought about the victory.

Congratulations go out to both Roy and Bruce on their fine job. Knowing that it was your effort alone which brought about the victory.

March Brings Baseball, Tennis

Bjerke, Jolgen Head Coaches

Turnouts began Monday, March 8, for the baseball and tennis squads. Mr. Dick Bjerke assumed the position of head coach for the diamond squad. Mr. Bjerke replaces Mr. Des Charouhas as baseball coach. Mr. Bjerke commented, “No promising pitchers moving to varsity ball from the J.V. squad are:

Steve Hoyt, senior; Terry Solomon, senior and John Garrison, junior.

Sammamish and Federal Way, both having an almost full team return¬

ning to varsity play.

Turnouts began Monday, March 8, for the baseball and tennis squads. Mr. Dick Bjerke assumed the position of head coach for the diamond squad. Mr. Bjerke replaces Mr. Des Charouhas as baseball coach. Mr. Bjerke commented, “No promising pitchers moving to varsity ball from the J.V. squad are:

Steve Hoyt, senior; Terry Solomon, senior and John Garrison, junior.

Sammamish and Federal Way, both having an almost full team return¬

ning to varsity play.

Lakesides Cleaners and Laundry

approved Sanitone service

120 LAKE STREET, SOUTH

KIRKLAND VA 2-2222

Our smart hairdo — out to tone frame your face, and properly permed to stay in place.

ROSE HILL BEAUTY

VA 2-7422

Lake Washington Wins At State

Two Lake Washington wrestlers, Bruce Shults and Roy Grospe, both seniors, had their way through sub-district and district to earn a spot in state competition. Bruce took first in the 123 pound weight division, while Roy placed sixth in 130 pound weight class.

Grabbers from the entire state fought to gain state recognition in the State Wrestling finals, held February 26-27, at the University of Washington's Hec Edmundson Pavilion.

Moses Lake placed first in the tournament with 47 team points. This was their fifth first in the past seven years in state wrestlin¬

North Central of Spokane finished second; Shadle Park, an¬ other Spokane school, took third; followed by Hill Barbers in the Cash¬ mere.

Individual weight champions and their schools were: 106 lbs.- Louis Mason, Moses Lake; 115 lbs.- Dwayne Keller, Kennewick; 123 lbs.- Bruce Shults, Lake Washington; 130 lbs.- Terry Madison, Kelelsey; 136 lbs.- Jim Lane, Moses Lake; 141 lbs.- Scott Adams, Richland; 146 lbs.- Jack Coffey, North Central; 157 lbs.- Ron Dixon, Shadle Park; 168 lbs.- Don Edwards, Auburn; 178 lbs.- Mike Fisher, Mt. Vernon; 194 lbs.- Mike Stindler, Tumwater; Heavyweight — Nathan Roundy, Marysville.

Skiers Compete In Cascade Race

In anticipation of the All-City races to be held at Snoqualmie Summit, ski buffs have been preparing by enter¬ ving various races in the Cascade area.

At Steven's Pass, February 27, the team competed in an invita¬ tional race and competed in the All-City race at Snoqualmie Summit, January 26. The Kangs placed fifth in the team standings, with Bruce Richardson leading the skiers with a tie for fifth place.

At Al Piskad, Ray Watson, Pete Hales and Dave Weyers led the Kangs in the All-City race and placed in that order. Mike, Bruce and Al met again at Ski Across on February 26, to repre¬ sent Lake Washington in the Giant Slalom. The Kangs had their second win of the year, Bruce has only lost one league match. That with experience behind both the pitching and catching positions,

As lettermen to the squad.

promising pitchers moving to varsity ball from the J.V. squad are:

Steve Hoyt, senior; Terry Solomon, senior and John Garrison, junior.

Sammamish and Federal Way, both having an almost full team return¬

ning to varsity play.

Dairy Queen

Shakes - Sundaes - Malts

Hamburger - Hot Dogs - French Fries

Orders to Go

11155 NE 8th Bellevue CIL 4-5323

15259 Bellevue-Redmond Road

SH 6-4848